COMMUNITY SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

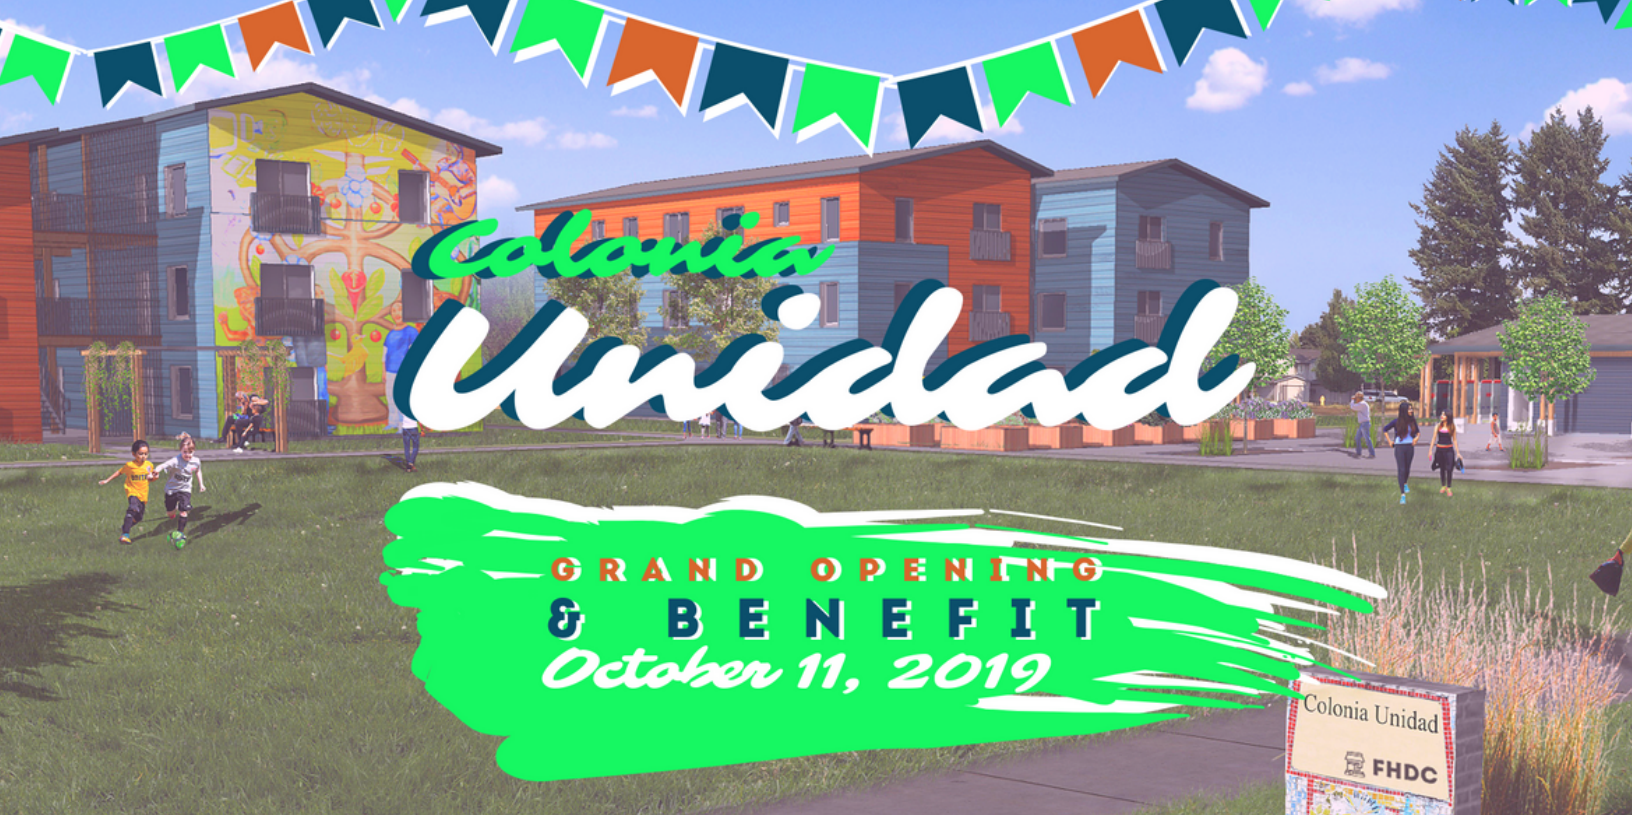

We believe a home is just the beginning

ABOUT
FHDC

Farmworker Housing Development Corporation (FHDC) builds housing and community assets for farmworkers, primarily Latinx immigrants and other low-income communities throughout the mid-Willamette Valley of Oregon. We believe that a home is just the beginning of what could be, and since 1991, we have strived to empower and advocate for individuals and families on their journey to move beyond the shadows of systemic oppression and to dismantle the negative social, psychological and physical effects of poverty.

Our core initiatives cover affordable housing development and acquisition, rehabilitation and asset management, and resident leadership development (Promotores). We work closely with community organizations and public entities to ensure residents have access to basic needs such as food security, health care, after school and summer youth programs, and opportunities to grow income, assets, and skills.
